

Thank you for advancing research with us in 2025

Public Health

From:services-solutions@journals.email.elsevier.com

To:naghanya@verizon.net

Fri, Jan 23 at 9:20 PM

Thank you for supporting your research community through peer-review in 2025

Dear Nonye Aghanya,

Thank you for the time, care, and expertise you invested in peer review this year. Your commitment plays a vital role in supporting your research community and helping shape the work that moves the field forward. Although this work often happens behind the scenes, it has a meaningful and lasting impact on the quality and direction of the research we publish.

Letter from the Elsevier Journals Leadership Team

Peer review is the foundation of sound scholarly progress, and research communities rely on the insights and expertise of dedicated reviewers like you. We are sincerely grateful for the time and thoughtful evaluation you have contributed this year. Your work helps ensure that the research we publish remains rigorous, trustworthy, and valuable to the communities it serves.

As we look ahead to 2026, we remain committed to strengthening the peer review experience. We will continue working to provide clearer guidance, more relevant invitations, and support that recognises the importance of your contribution.

Thank you for supporting the research community through your peer review work. Your commitment upholds the integrity of scholarship and enables new ideas to advance with confidence.

Laura Hassink

Managing Director, Elsevier Journals

Thank you for shaping the future of research with us.

